

Theory to study the trends of social organization

Dr. Husein Saddeek *

Abstract

The elements of social organization enhance and achieve balance and stability in order to achieve the objectives of the other elements that contribute to the manifestations of conflict and confirm the discrepancy between the social workers because of the different interests and divergent goals pursued by multiple groups within the organization.

The majority of the theoretical trends in sociology and social sciences from on issues of organization to determine the mutual relations between the organization and the community that would raise so many questions relating to problems of industrial organization, and provide suggestions and solutions to highlight the multiple views on the social construction and its impact on improving the performance of workers.
